As his ship lies trapped by the surrounding ice, Walton spends many hours talking with the ill man, a Victor Frankenstein of Geneva. As they talk, Frankenstein slowly tells his story to Walton. Frankenstein, too, was driven by a desire to make a name for himself, to forge ahead into realms in which no other man had trod. He searched the fields of biology, chemistry, and electricity for the secret to life and creation. Frankenstein succeeded in understanding what no other man had comprehended, and he soon put his knowledge to gruesome practical application - making a man. He succeeded also in this; but with his success came horror and consequences beyond his imagination. From death he had created life; but from the life he had created he reaped only death.
